Minimum Grade Requirements For Master's Students

Master's students may graduate only if all of the following grade requirements are met:

- A. Grade Point Average (GPA) of 3.00 or greater for courses in the Program of Study, excluding transfer courses (= "SDSU POS GPA").
- B. GPA of 3.00 or greater for courses in the POS, including transfer courses (= "Total POS GPA").
- C. GPA of 3.00 or greater for the 300-level and above courses taken concurrently with, or subsequent to, the earliest course listed on the POS (= "300+1 GPA"). This includes transfer courses from other institutions. Courses taken prior to the first course on the POS are not used in this calculation.
- D. GPA of 2.85 or greater for all SDSU courses on the graduate record (= "Post-baccalaureate Cumulative GPA"). This does not include transfer courses from other institutions.
- E. A minimum grade of C for every course in the filed POS. However, some degree programs may require a higher grade than C for one or more courses (see the Graduate Bulletin).
- F. In addition to these university-wide requirements, some Master's programs also have a minimum GPA requirement for specific core courses taken by all students in the program (see the Graduate Bulletin).

Master's students are subject to academic disqualification when the Post-Baccalaureate Cumulative GPA falls below 2.85.

Minimum Grade Requirements For Doctoral Students

Doctoral students may graduate only if all of the following grade requirements are met:

- A. GPA of 3.00 or greater for all SDSU courses on the graduate record (= "Post-baccalaureate Cumulative GPA").
- B. GPA of 3.00 or greater for courses taken at the partner campus as part of the program (= "Partner Campus GPA").
- C. A minimum grade of C for every course in the program. However, some degree programs may require a higher grade than C for one or more courses (see the Graduate Bulletin).
- D. For students in stand-alone doctoral programs (with no partner campus):
 - D1. GPA of 3.00 or greater for courses in the Program Of Study, excluding transfer courses (= "SDSU POS GPA").
 - D2. GPA of 3.00 or greater for courses in the POS, including transfer courses (= "Total POS GPA").
 - D3. GPA of 3.00 or greater for the 300-level and above courses taken concurrently with, or subsequent to, the earliest course listed on the POS (= "300+1 GPA"). This includes transfer courses from other institutions. Courses taken prior to the first course on the POS are not used in this calculation.

To maintain good academic standing, the Post-baccalaureate Cumulative GPA and the Partner Campus GPA must be 3.00 or greater.

Doctoral students are subject to academic disqualification when the Post-Baccalaureate Cumulative GPA falls below 2.85, or the Partner Campus GPA falls below 2.85.

Minimum Grade Requirements For Certificate Students

Certificates may be issued only if all of the following grade requirements are met:

- A. GPA of 3.00 or greater for all courses used to meet certificate requirements (= "Certificate GPA").
- B. GPA of 2.85 or greater for all SDSU courses on the graduate record (= "Post-baccalaureate Cumulative GPA").
- C. A minimum grade of C for every course used to meet certificate requirements. However, some certificate programs may require a higher grade than C for one or more courses (see the Graduate Bulletin).

Certificate students are subject to academic disqualification when the Post-Baccalaureate Cumulative GPA falls below 2.85. Students pursuing a certificate who are co-enrolled in a Master's or doctoral program must also meet the additional grade requirements listed above.

Minimum Grade Requirements For Credential Students

Credential students are subject to academic disqualification when the Post-Baccalaureate Cumulative GPA falls below 2.85. Students pursuing a credential who are co-enrolled in a Master's, doctoral and/or certificate program must also meet the additional grade requirements listed above.

Readmission And Reinstatement After Disqualification (Same Graduate Program)

Graduate students who have been academically disqualified may not attend SDSU (including the College of Extended Studies) for a minimum of one full semester. After that time, students may file an application for readmission. If the graduate program recommends readmission, this Petition must be submitted as soon as possible. Readmission to the university is NOT automatic, and each applicant's petition will be considered on an individual basis. Review generally requires at least 10 business days.

Readmission And Reinstatement After Disqualification (New Graduate Program)

All requirements for reinstatement into the same graduate program also apply to reinstatement into a new graduate program. The 300+1 GPA calculation will begin with the earliest semester for any course in the new POS. According to university policy, the entire SDSU graduate record (including previous programs) is used in the Post-baccalaureate Cumulative GPA calculation. There is no "amnesty" policy when entering a new program. Therefore, it may be impossible for students who are disqualified with particularly low grades to construct a reasonable plan to meet all graduation grade requirements at SDSU, even if they are readmitted to a different program.
